Instructions:

- The test consists of two sections: Section 1 and 2.
- You have 5 minutes to prepare for the test.
- In preparing for Section 2, consider what to say, and how to say it—such as in what sequence, how to connect, how to emphasize, etc.

Section One

Directions: Read aloud the part between the stars (*). (2 minutes)

Hello everybody. Welcome to the American Language Center. I'm Gina Richards, your academic advisor. You can all just call me Gina. I know today is your first day at our school, so you're probably a little nervous and maybe a little shy, too. So, I want to tell you right at the beginning: if you don't understand something, please ask questions. OK? And listen very carefully because we're going to give you a lot of important information — information that will make your experience here enjoyable and useful. Okay, here we go.

(*) Let me tell you about the plan for today. There are three things on your schedule. First, you will take a placement test. This test will measure your English level. You'll take a reading, grammar, and composition test. Oh, and also listening. A listening test. The whole placement test takes three hours.

Next, you will meet in small groups, with a teacher, for an orientation. This orientation meeting will be about important things you need to know, like where to buy your books, what type of classes you'll have, how to find a roommate, things like that. This is where you can ask a lot of questions.

Then, finally, this afternoon, you will take a campus tour. We'll show you the main buildings where your classrooms are; you'll see some of the sports facilities, you know, the tennis courts, the swimming pool, places like that; and you'll also visit the library and the computer lab. I think you'll be surprised how large and how beautiful our campus is. All right. Are there any questions before we begin? (*)

Section Two

Speak based on a given topic: (3 minutes)

Talk about children and television. Is it good for children to watch television? Why or why not?

Section One

Directions: Read aloud the part between the stars (*). (2 minutes)

Hi, my name is Terri Whitmore. I'm 21 years old, I major in psychology, I have a boyfriend, and I love movies and shopping and cats. Yeah, most people think I'm a typical college student. That's until they find out that I'm a champion wrestler. Then of course they're surprised because in most parts of the United States and the world, the idea of women's wrestling is still new.

(*) What people don't know is that women's wrestling is growing very quickly, especially since the 2004 Olympics. That's when women's wrestling was finally included as an Olympic sport. Imagine; the sport of wrestling is one of the oldest in history, but women wrestlers couldn't compete until recently.

Anyway, people always ask me, "Why did you choose wrestling?" Well, to me it was natural. I became interested when I was eight because my brothers were on wrestling teams. They let me participate, and I did very well. I mean I won a lot of matches and beat most of the guys. But when I turned 12, they didn't want me on the team anymore just because I was a girl. When I went to college, I started to wrestle again, this time on girls' teams.

Another thing people ask is about the rules. Are they the same as for men? Sure. Basically, the main goal in wrestling is to pin your opponent. That means you try to hold their shoulders to the floor for about one-half second. If you do that, you win right away. (*) But there are other ways to win a match, too. You can score points; I mean points for different moves and holds. The wrestler with the most points is the winner. But you need at least three more points than the other guy. If not, then you go into overtime.

Section Two

Speak based on a given topic: (3 minutes)

Talk about good and bad manners when having a formal dinner in your hometown.

Section One

Directions: Read aloud the part between the stars (*). (2 minutes)

At what age does a child become an adult? The answer depends on your culture or religion. Here are a few examples.

(*) First, in some North American Indian cultures, a boy becomes a man around the age of 13. At that time, he goes into the woods alone, without food or water, for several days. When he returns safely, he becomes an adult man. Girls become adult women as soon as they are old enough to have babies, also around the age of 12 or 13.

In the Jewish religion, children spend years studying their history and religion. Then, at age 13 for boys and 12 for girls, they go through an important religious ceremony. The boys' ceremony is called a bar mitzvah and the girls' is called a bat mitzvah. From that day, they are adults, and they are responsible for their own religious development.

In Japan today, young people become legal adults at age of 20. Each year on the second Monday in January, they celebrate "Coming-of-Age Day," when all the twenty-year-olds in a town are invited to attend a special ceremony. They wear traditional clothes, listen to speeches, and visit with old friends. (*)

Finally, in the United States, the passage into adulthood takes several years. American teenagers look forward to their 16th birthday, because in most states that is the age when they can get a driver's license. The legal age of adulthood is 18, when Americans can vote, get married, and work full-time.

Section Two

Speak based on a given topic: (3 minutes)

What do you like and dislike about the home where you live now? What things about a home/an apartment do you think is/are most important? (rent, transport, noise, rooms, kitchen, etc.)
