Instructions:

- The test consists of two sections: Section 1 and 2.
- You have 5 minutes to prepare for the test.
- In preparing for Section 2, consider what to say, and how to say it—such as in what sequence, how to connect, how to emphasize, etc.

Section One

Directions: Read aloud the part between the stars (*). (2 minutes)

Hi, my name is Terri Whitmore. I'm 21 years old, I major in psychology, I have a boyfriend, and I love movies and shopping and cats. Yeah, most people think I'm a typical college student. That's until they find out that I'm a champion wrestler. Then of course they're surprised because in most parts of the United States and the world, the idea of women's wrestling is still new.

(*) What people don't know is that women's wrestling is growing very quickly, especially since the 2004 Olympics. That's when women's wrestling was finally included as an Olympic sport. Imagine: the sport of wrestling is one of the oldest in history, but women wrestlers couldn't compete until recently.

Anyway, people always ask me, "Why did you choose wrestling?" Well, to me it was natural. I became interested when I was eight because my brothers were on wrestling teams. They let me participate, and I did very well. I mean I won a lot of matches and beat most of the guys. But when I turned 12, they didn't want me on the team anymore just because I was a girl. When I went to college, I started to wrestle again, this time on girls' teams.

Another thing people ask is about the rules. Are they the same as for men? Sure. Basically, the main goal in wrestling is to pin your opponent. That means you try to hold their shoulders to the floor for about one-half second. If you do that, you win right away. (*) But there are other ways to win a match, too. You can score points; I mean points for different moves and holds. The wrestler with the most points is the winner. But you need at least three more points than the other guy. If not, then you go into overtime.

Section Two

Speak based on a given topic: (3 minutes)

What do you think of Internet dating? Why do you think there are so many/so few people around you who enjoy Internet dating?

Vancouver, in Western Canada, has delicious Chinese food because there are many Chinese immigrants in that part of Canada. And Vancouver has great fish—like salmon.

(*) San Francisco also has excellent Chinese and Japanese restaurants. Oh, and the bread in San Francisco is really special. Just north of San Francisco there are two little towns called Napa and Sonoma. That's where they make some wonderful California wine.

Now, if you drive to Texas, be sure to eat some Mexican food. It's very spicy, but so delicious. In the Midwest, the middle of the United States, you can find terrific cheese in Wisconsin. And don't forget to have a steak in Chicago. The beef is very good there.

If you drive to the Northeast, try to visit Maine to taste the seafood. Lobster is fantastic. And nearby, in Montreal, Canada, the French food is fabulous. Oh, and if you decide to go down south to Georgia, fried chicken is very popular. And in Florida, of course, you'll find the best oranges. (*)

Section Two

Speak based on a given topic: (3 minutes)

Directions: Read aloud the part between the stars (*). (2 minutes)

At what age does a child become an adult? The answer depends on your culture or religion. Here are a few examples.

First, in some North American Indian cultures, a boy becomes a man around the age of 13. At that time, he goes into the woods alone, without food or water, for several days. When he returns safely, he becomes an adult man. Girls become adult women as soon as they are old enough to have babies, also around the age of 12 or 13.

(*) In the Jewish religion, children spend years studying their history and religion. Then, at age 13 for boys and 12 for girls, they go through an important religious ceremony. The boys' ceremony is called a bar mitzvah and the girls' is called a bat mitzvah. From that day, they are adults, and they are responsible for their own religious development.

In Japan today, young people become legal adults at age of 20. Each year on the second Monday in January, they celebrate "Coming-of-Age Day," when all the twenty-year-olds in a town are invited to attend a special ceremony. They wear traditional clothes, listen to speeches, and visit with old friends.

Finally, in the United States, the passage into adulthood takes several years. American teenagers look forward to their 16th birthday, because in most states that is the age when they can get a driver's license. The legal age of adulthood is 18, when Americans can vote, get married, and work full-time. (*)
