Jeff: Who's there?

Sharon: It's Sharon and Joey!

Jeff: Hi! Come on in. What's happening?

Sharon: Jeff, can you do me a big favor? I just got a call from the office. They want me to look into a computer problem right away. Would you mind (1) _____ Joey until I get back?

Jeff: Sure, no problem. Is he asleep?

Sharon: Yeah, he just (2) _____ asleep ten minutes ago. He usually sleeps for a couple of hours at this time of day. But if he wakes up, just give him a bottle.

Mari: Ooh, what a cute baby! He's so (3) _____!

Jeff: Mari, this is our neighbor, Sharon, and her son, Joey. Sharon, this is our new roommate, Mari.

Mari: Nice to meet you.

Sharon: You too. Listen, I've got to (4) _____ off. Thanks so much, Jeff, for helping me out.

Jeff/Mari: Bye!

Mari: Hey, Jeff, I didn't know you liked babies.

Jeff: Well, Joey is special. I take care of him from time to time when Sharon's busy. And then she does favors for me in return. Like last week she lent me her (5) _____.

Mari: And her husband? Is he...

Jeff: She's not married. I don't think she ever was, actually.

Mari: Never?

Jeff: Nope, never. I think she's happy being a (6) _____ mother.

Mari: Oh. Is that pretty common in America?

Jeff: Well, it's certainly becoming more and more common. Even Nancy used to talk about it. You know, before she got (7) _____.

Nancy: Hi, guys.

Mari/Jeff: Hi.

Nancy: Uh, what were you saying about me?

Jeff: That you used to talk about having a baby by yourself before you met Andrew.

Nancy: Oh yeah, I (8) _____ that time was running out. You know, like, what if I never got married?

Mari: Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I could (9) _____ bring up a baby by myself. I think it would be so difficult...

Nancy: Yeah, raising a child is tough. I'm really lucky I met Andrew.

Mari: And, if you have a baby, you'll have Jeff here to help you with babysitting.

Jeff: We'll see. Speaking of babysitting, I'd (10) _____ check up on Joey.

Section One

Directions: Read aloud the part between the stars (*). (2 minutes)

Good morning everyone, my name is Nancy Anderson, and I'm the director of the Study Support Center. OK. This morning I want to give you a general introduction to the kind of study support we offer here. After that, we'll have time for some questions before taking a break for coffee. OK?

()First, I want to tell you about the different types of classes we have available here in the Center. There are four main types of classes: small group classes, language lab, computer lab, and individual study. Small group classes usually have five to eight students. They meet with a teacher once a week to practice speaking and communication skills. Groups are usually divided according to their major: business or law, for example. Language lab classes are for practicing pronunciation and listening skills. You can sign up for language lab classes at any time. There's no teacher, but a teaching assistant will help you find the right program, which you can work through at your own speed. Computer lab classes are in the library. You don't need to sign up. But look at the schedule for times of classes when a teaching assistant can help you with the basics of using computers and the Internet. Finally, you can meet with an individual tutor in our support center to get advice on any problems you're having with your studies. You can meet for one hour up to three times a week. But sign up early, the schedule gets filled up very quickly, especially around exam time! ()

Section Two Speak based on one of the following topics: (3 minutes)

1. Describe the university system in our country based on the following topics:

- A. Types of university courses
- B. Who teaches university courses
- C. Class sizes
- D. Course requirements for different majors
- E. Types of exams
- F. Punishment for plagiarism(剽窃)

2. Have you got a job? If yes, do you like it, why or why not? If no, what's your ideal job, why?

Have you ever seen the old television show Father Knows Best? You probably haven't because it was a popular comedy show in the 1950s—way before you were born. It was about a family; a father, who went to work every day; a mother, who stayed home and took care of the house; and the children—two or three, I can't remember. Anyway, in those days that was considered to be a typical American family.

(*) But today, the American family is very different. First, families are smaller today than before. I mean, people are having fewer children. Second, more and more children are growing up in single-parent families—families with only a mother or only a father.

I'm not going to go into the reasons for that here because I want to focus on the third and biggest change in the American family: the role of married mothers and the effects of this new role. Consider these statistics: In the 1950s, only 11 percent of married mothers worked outside the home. In 2002, about 70 percent of mothers were employed(*).

Section Two Speak based on one of the following topics: (3 minutes)

1. What difference have you noticed between British English and American English?
e. g. vocabulary difference, grammar difference, spelling difference and the difference in the use of the verbs, prepositions, etc.
2. Describe one of the customs in your place?
 - A. The eating customs (What utensils do you use when eating, chopsticks, knife and fork or fingers? Which is more polite in your place, eating everything on her/his plate or leaving something on her/his plate at the end of the meal?)
 - B. The greeting customs (how do people behave when they say hello, do they shake hands? Do they hug? Or Do they bow?)

Today I'm going to talk about greetings in different cultures. And in particular about greetings in more formal work and business settings. Now of course, we all know some of the basic differences in greetings customs, for example, that handshakes are more common in North American and European contexts, while bowing is more common in some Asian cultures, particularly in Japan. But there are also some other differences in rules of politeness that can cause misunderstandings.

(*) In North America, it is usual to shake hands when you first meet someone. When you shake hands, it should be accompanied by eye contact, a smile, and a friendly greeting such as How are you? or I'm glad to meet you. In this situation, it is polite to ask someone to call you by your first name. The aim is to look and sound sincere and friendly, and to try to decrease social distance by establishing an equal relationship.

In Japan, it is common to bow when first meeting someone. It is polite to avoid eye contact by looking down. The greeting is usually accompanied by a phrase asking for the other person's help, for example, by using the phrase, doozo yoroshiku o negai shimasu which may be translated as "I hope you will be able to help me." The appropriate response is "I ask for your help, too." The aim is to establish a relationship of mutual dependence where everyone helps each other. (*)

Section Two Speak based on one of the following topics: (3 minutes)

1. Talk about your tastes and preferences based on one of the following topics:

- A. What kind of music do you like, classical music or popular music, why?
- B. What's your favorite kind of food?
- C. What kind of movies do you like, love story, cartoon, science fiction etc?
- D. What kind of sports do you like, football, basketball, table tennis, volleyball, tennis, swimming, jogging etc?

2. Describe one of your typical days. What time do you get up? What do you do in the morning and the afternoon? How much time do you spend on your housework? What time do you go to bed? Etc.
